KIBBLE SUPPLY FOOD PANTRY FEEDS ANIMALS DURING UNCERTAINTY

The Kibble Supply Pet Food Pantry has always offered a measure of security for pets and their people in times of uncertainty or instability. This program, since its inception, has helped people facing financial hardship to supplement their pet’s food with free kibble to provide the care the animal needs, while maintaining the physical health and psychological benefits of the human-animal bond.

With COVID-19 creating new financial challenges, the kibble pantry has become an even more valuable resource for many. However, executing the program has come with challenges in this unique time as well.

Some perks of the program, such as access to donated toys and pet beds have had to be reduced. In-person kibble pick up has been replaced by a drive-through pick up model which helps to minimize direct contact between people.

The kibble pantry is stocked through donations from community members, supply drives and business partners. XX,XXX lbs. of food has been distributed to community members this year.

HOME TOGETHER WITH ANIMALS

August 1 marks the close of the Animal Friends Alliance online virtual gala and the beginning of the Home Together crowdfunding campaign. Home Together is an interactive, month-long event with a fundraising goal of $200,000. It is meant to help offset the funding that would have been raised at our Gala for Animals special appeal as well as the Michelson Found Animals Fund the Shelters Challenge, which was discontinued in 2020.

The campaign features teams competing against each other to reach fundraising benchmarks all month long. Teams that meet these challenges will earn rewards as well as meowing, barking, and bragging rights among their peers. Thank you gifts and bonus treats will be distributed to supporters of the campaign.

HOME Together

All month long donors and teams can receive giving incentives that help show their support of Animal Friends Alliance with fun swag. Saving animals has never looked so good! Keep an eye on Alliance social media channels for bonus incentive prizes.

If your church group, service project club, work buddies, or trivia team is looking for a way to stay connected in August while helping animals in your community, sign up to become one of our Home Together teams at: charity.gofundme.com/home-together.

ENTER YOUR PET IN THE 2021 ALLIANCE CALENDAR CONTEST

Animal Friends Alliance is once again hosting its annual calendar contest to find 12 months of the cutest dogs and cats out there. For an entry fee of $20.00 per image you can submit your best shot to be considered for one of the 11 monthly features.

Submissions are not limited, but they do close August 23, so don’t hesitate to enter more than one photo to increase your chance of being selected.

All submissions will be included in the calendar. In addition to images, you can reserve a special date in the calendar with a personal message or your own photo.

Images will be judged by a panel of animal lovers who will be looking for originality, quality of photo, composition and cuteness. For more details visit: savinganimals.today.org/calendar-contest

Behavior Scholarship Recipient Update
The journey of a dog recovering from trauma to a dog becoming an amazing companion is an inspiring thing. Seeing the difference that an investment of care, trust, play, and consistency makes to any struggling dog is what inspired Stephen Inman, Travis Rounsaville and Thea Rounsaville to put their money where their hearts were and create a scholarship program for pups in need of additional behavioral support after adoption.

The first recipient of this scholarship was Juniper, a bright and timid greyhound mix, who had fear issues around certain triggers. Juniper has not only found her new home, but she has also completed her first session with K9 Wisdom Training, a trusted BizPAW partner.

K9 Wisdom Training approaches dog training with a scientific and holistic view to help dogs learn new coping skills, manners and how to communicate effectively. They also prioritize giving back to the community and make a great match for this exciting new program that helps dogs stay in their new homes.
